

This year CGW celebrates its 10th anniversary!

Cracow '10 Grid Workshop

Kraków, Poland
October 11-13, 2010

Topics

- o e-Science, system-level science and collaborative applications,
- o models; methods and tools for collaborative applications development,
- o virtual laboratories and problem solving environments,
- o distributed computing infrastructures, grids and clouds,
- o knowledge in e-Science and DCI systems,
- o virtual organizations and security aspects,
- o resource management and scheduling,
- o monitoring and information management,
- o software engineering aspects,
- o industrial and social implications.

Keynote Speakers

Frank Baetke, HP, USA

Kyriakos Baxevanidis, European Commission, Brussels, Belgium

Ewa Deelman, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, USA

Ad Emmen, AlmereGrid and EnterTheGrid, The Netherlands

Pawel Gempner, HPC Platform Architect EMEA – Intel Corporation, Poland

Cees de Laat, Universiteit van Amsterdam, The Netherlands

Jarek Nabrzyski, University of Notre Dame, USA

Syed Naqvi, CETIC, Belgium

Steven Newhouse, EGI.eu and EGI-InSPIRE Project

Dana Petcu, Western University of Timisoara, Romania

Training – October 10th, 2010

“Learn how to use and build your own Cloud infrastructure using the RESERVOIR framework”

Deadlines

- o abstract submission – Sept. 12, 2010
- o acceptance notification – Sept. 22, 2010
- o early registration – Sept. 26, 2010

www.cyfronet.pl/cgw10/

Sponsors:

Organized by:

Academic Computer Centre
Cyfronet AGH

Institute of Computer Science

Institute of Nuclear Physics PAN

INNOVATIVE ECONOMY
NATIONAL COHESION STRATEGY

EUROPEAN UNION
EUROPEAN REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

